WHEREAS, the cost of said improvements is in excess of the ordinary revenue of the City of Bay St. Louis; therefore, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MAYOR AND BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS,

SECTION 1. That in accordance with the power and authority vested in it by Chapter 403 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1930, being Section 3004-01 through Section 3004-03, inclusive, of the Municipal Code of 1930, as amended by Chapter 920 of the Municipal Laws of 1930, the Mayor and Board of Commissioners of said City do hereby declare that it is necessary for the public good, and that it is the purpose and intention of the Mayor and Board of Commissioners to properly grave and drain, to lay the necessary sanitary and storm sewers, relocate water mains and connections where necessary, and to pave with suitable material, and to otherwise improve certain streets, avenues, or parts thereof in the City of Bay St. Louis, and to assess a part or all of the total cost of the construction and grading against the property abutting on and along the said several streets and avenues in accordance with the provisions of said Chapter 403 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1930, as amended; and to determine to be paid in cash or in the form of labor, materials, or equipment, payable annually, as follows: (1) one-half per annum, payable annually, as provided by said Chapter 403 of the Laws of Mississippi of 1930; (2) that the laying of the streets shall be of such materials as are in the plans and specifications filed with the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. That it is necessary to pay for said improvements, the Mayor and Board of Commissioners of the City of Bay St. Louis, shall be liable for the obligations of the same, and the same shall be a valid obligation of the City of Bay St. Louis, and all debts, taxes, and expenses, including the interest thereon, shall be a valid obligation of the City of Bay St. Louis, in accordance with the laws of Mississippi.

SECTION 2. That the Mayor and Board of Commissioners of the City of Bay St. Louis, shall be liable for the obligations of the same, and the same shall be a valid obligation of the City of Bay St. Louis, and all debts, taxes, and expenses, including the interest thereon, shall be a valid obligation of the City of Bay St. Louis, in accordance with the laws of Mississippi.

SECTION 3. A Conservative View

by James J. Kilpatrick

WASHINGTON - In terms of American political history, does the name of Preston Parks carry any particular meaning? W. F. Turner? Henry D. Irvin? These were presidential electors in 1948, 1956 and 1960 who chose to vote their own merry, maverick way. They turn up as significant figures in a book, scheduled for publication next week, that is must reading for serious students of the marvelous madness known as a presidential election.

The book is The People's President, by Neal R. Peirce, political editor of Congressional Quarterly. In this definitive study of the electoral college system, the facts and figures are set forth with that meticulous and dispassionate accuracy for which "CQ" is acclaimed; but Peirce has gone no further, on his own, to make a persuasive case for abandonment of the old electoral system in favor of direct, popular election of presidents.

It is a pity that this book could not have appeared a year ago, or two years ago, when it might have been instrumental in propelling constitutional reform in time for the 1968 election. It is too late now. No hurry-up resolution from the Congress, even if two-thirds of each house were disposed to act, possibly could win ratification in the next five months.

Thus the country once more is stuck with the rusty, cumbersome, unfair, and potentially disastrous system devised 170 years ago. Americans do not vote directly for a presidential candidate; they vote for electors who are practically and morally pledged to carry out the voters' will. If no candidate receives a majority of the 538 electoral votes, the choice of a president goes to the House of Representatives, where each state may cast a single vote.

Thomas Jefferson in 1808, declared that "I have always considered the constitutionality of the election of presidents as the greatest source of political corruption, and one which seems unlikely ever to be got rid of."

That valiant cause, of course, with the presidential election the following year. Your candidates divided the vote of 1824. Jackson led in both

Cleveland won a plurality of nearly 100,000 votes, but lost in the electoral college. In 1916, a shift of less than one-fifth of one per cent of the California vote would have made Hughes the president instead of Wilson. The recent examples of 1948 and 1960 need no recapitulation, unheard of till then, of the puritan with the black-leg.

The jobbery that accompanied the election of 1824 was scarcely a patch upon the partisan deal that deprived Samuel J. Tilden of the presidency following the election of 1876. Yet the travesty of "choice by the House," with each state casting one vote, is only part of the mockery of democratic institutions that may occur under the electoral system.

As Peirce observes, nothing but blind luck has prevented the popular will from being thwarted time after time. A shift of relatively few votes in single states would have changed the electoral outcomes in 1880 and 1884. In 1888, floor action in the House during the past two weeks has slowed to a snail's pace in consideration of bills of wide-range importance. There have been attempts to take action on many of the seven hundred bills introduced in anticipation of adjournment during the coming week.

The House Education Committee voted to kill two measures which would have re-enacted a state-wide compulsory education law. Prior to the legislative session, there were efforts made to enact such legislation. Education leaders were in the forefront of the fight. Their interest cooled when arguments were presented that an additional 20,000 students in the schools would increase the cost of the educational program by a large amount. In light of the additional cost, it was argued that it was not timely to enact such a law.*

Riots spawn TV actors

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON - With the nation facing one war in Southeast Asia and a series of very dangerous wars in the big cities, the American Society of Newspaper Editors, now meeting in Washington, may want to consider current distortions of television news and some form of voluntary censorship.

The issue arises because of the irrefutable fact that recent race riots have been partly inspired by television, and the fact that Negroes have felt compelled to stage acts for the benefit of the tv cameras.

This first became evident after the Little Rock school integration disturbances, which necessitated calling out federal troops. Afterward it was revealed that tv producers paid white youths to pick a fight with Negro school children in order to create drama for the tv screen.

More recently in Memphis it was obvious that Negroes were "acting by waving sticks and shouting in front of the tv cameras during the first Memphis march of Martin Luther King. And there is some doubt that the Washington looting would have ever become serious but for the obstruction of television.

Here is how Philip Geyelin of the Washington Post describes the manner in which tv, which he describes as The Almighty Eye, inspired rioting in the nation's capital. One fire had been started, but there was no racial hostility, Geyelin reported.

"It was more like an event, or a curiosity, and the tension was in wondering whether the cascades of water could shield the nearby houses. . . .

"It wasn't even a very big audience, considering the spectacle. A block or so away, people were sitting on front stoops, or clustering on street corners, talking, laughing, arguing, bored.

On stage

"Then it happened. Abruptly, from a group of fire-watchers perched on an embankment there was a flurry of fist-shaking and a cacophony of angry cries--'Honky,' 'You killed our soul brother,' and 'You killed Martin Luther King.' . . .

"Every bit of it was aimed at the funnel-shaped snout of a television camera," continued Geyelin. "The medium had moved in. As the cameraman panned across the crowd, it was as if some unseen director was calling out cues. It was Instant Showbiz. The men on the embankment grabbed a grinning Negro fireman and held his arms aloft, demanding that this soul brother who was a fireman be made fire chief. The fireman laughed self-consciously and shook them off and went about his work. But the camera kept grinding and the young men played to it and finally an Army jeep drove up and somebody put in a radio call. In a matter of minutes, the police were there, swooping in with sirens going. . . . Round canisters (of tear gas) rolled after the people. . . .

"It became a game. 'We're going, sir, we're going boss,' they chanted in taunting voices, moving with exaggerated strides in a show of mock deference. . . . One woman couldn't help laughing as she hitched up her skirts and skipped a little faster before the gas had a chance to spread. . . .

"It was over as quickly as it had begun, and the police joked as they coughed and rubbed their eyes. . . . You could tell it any way you liked: The headlines could have said, POLICE RIOT ANGRY MOB AT SITE OF BLAZE, or you could have told it like it was--a piece of theater, inspired, produced and directed by the Almighty Eye."

Dangerous showbiz

The point is that thousands of Negroes watching this drama on tv had no idea that it was chiefly inspired for the benefit of the tv audience. So the rioting spread. Some of it, it is true, had been planned by young Negro militants. But 99 per cent of the Negro population of Washington was against the riots, and this militant minority would have had little success had it not been for their No. 1 ally--the Almighty Eye.

So the riots, burning and looting spread from Washington to Baltimore to Kansas City--with millions of dollars in damage to property and even greater damage to goodwill between the races and to American prestige abroad.

This is damage which the United States can ill afford today any more than it could during World War II. In World War II, the press and radio set up their own self-censorship under the efficient direction of Byron Price of the Associated Press and with the assistance of such men as Nat Howard of the Cleveland News and James Pope of the Louisville Courier-Journal. They protected freedom of the press and radio, at the same time protecting the welfare and safety of the United States.

Television at that time was not a factor. Today it is. Its great good to educate and inform should be protected. But its potential for doing harm must be curbed. And if the industry itself does not do so, eventually the government is sure to step in.

Letters to the editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Lacoste of the Waveland School for inviting me to talk to the children about the changes in Waveland over the years. The children were so well disciplined, bright-eyed and interested that it certainly made me feel proud to talk to these fine young Americans.

We talked about the days from "horse and buggy times" to the present. It was certainly a most enjoyable visit and I hope I will always be of service to the children of our community. I look forward to another visit soon.

Sincerely yours,
GARFIELD LADNER, Mayor
Town of Waveland.

I am sincerely sorry to see the mayor and commissioners attempting to ramrod through the same street program which has been turned down twice by a solid majority of the voters of our community by the use of the special improvements statutes.

At three separate meetings last week the mayor stated that this method was being used to afford the more than 40 percent who voted for the bond issues the opportunity to have their streets paved. It is not clear how you determine which people made up that percentage but it is clear that this type of reasoning completely disregards the will of the majority of the democratic process.

He further stated at these meetings that in order to protest this action that it was necessary that certain conditions be met. First, that a majority of property owners between 50 percent and 60 percent of the total voting population, AND, thirdly, that they actually reside on the property or occupy it through a tenant. All of which places an extremely heavy burden on the property owner who disagrees with the same old twice dictated street program. As the mayor stated at the meeting, "All you have to do to support our program is to stay home on the 5th of April."

The pertinent part of the editor's speech reads as follows:

"The determination of such governing authorities shall be final and conclusive; provided, however, that if a majority of property owners owning more than fifty per cent (50%) of the front footage of the property involved and actually residing on property owned by them and included within that part of any street, avenue, etc., ordered to be specially improved, or otherwise actually occupying property owned by them and included within that area shall file a protest, then the improvement shall not be made."

It is apparent from reading the statue that it is subject to more than one interpretation and there has been no definitive answer given us by the Supreme Court of Mississippi as to the correct interpretation.

However, the city administration has placed an interpretation on the statute which is most advantageous to the promotion of their street program and in using the special improvements statute to literally circumvent and thereby defeat street program for the purpose of repairing the damage to our citizens streets caused by the sewerage program.

Very truly yours,
W. M. FRISBIE

Hammersbach, Joseph Travirca

native of Rommerskirchen, Germany, he had resided in St. Louis for 60 years. He served as organist at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church for 15 years.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Alma Travirca; a son, Ralph Travirca, both of Harvey; two daughters, Miss Mary Hammersbach, Bay St. Louis, and Mrs. Henry Klepczen, Orleans, and three grandchildren.

Services were Monday morning from Riemann's Family-Whitfield Funeral Home. A requiem mass at Our Lady of the Gulf Church, celebrated by Father James J. Heenan, passed interment in St. Mary's cemetery with Brothers of the Good Heart as pallbearers.

Infant

Paulette Michelle Favre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Favre of Handsboro, died Friday about two hours after birth at Howard Memorial Hospital, Biloxi.

Survivors, in addition to her parents, are a sister, Rebecca Favre, her paternal grandfather, Eugene (Peck) Favre, Bay St. Louis; and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Porter, both of Gulfport. A graveside service took place Sunday at the green Cemetery.

Beaut 2 with 3,636, Beaut 3 with 3,453, Beaut 4 with 3,462 and Beaut 5 with 3,325.

Present bonds reflect an imbalance of more than 10 to 1 between Districts 4 and 5. The 1968 census shows Beaut 1 with 2,148; Beaut 2 with 1,195; Beaut 3 with 1,651; Beaut 4 with 1,092 and Beaut 5 with 11,419.

When the court authorized at-large voting last May, the complaint continues, it was based primarily on consideration that primary elections would be held shortly and redistricting at that time might result in chaos and confusion. However, the defendant board and their successors have failed to reapportion the county on a population basis.

Mrs. Gattis emphasized the importance of redistricting people better and more effectively. She also emphasized the importance of redistricting people to do justice to the people, getting people to do the things they want them to do without causing friction, heated tempers or resentment. She also pointed out that these kinds of attitudes are needed in the home, on the job and in community affairs. She said it prepares a person to control difficult and embarrassing situations.

Mr. James Gattis added that Jaycees and other civic organizations and clubs in other areas, such as Gulfport, Biloxi, Long Beach, Wiggins, Pascagoula, Leland and Hattiesburg, Mississippi, reported that classes have had an important influence on human relations and in the development of leadership in their community.

It was announced by Mr. James Gattis that the first meeting will be a free preview session. It will be at 7 to 10:30 p.m. on May 20th at Webb Community Center.

Report from capitol

By Rep. Walter J. Phillips

The last week of the legislative session transpired without my presence as I was engaged in a federal court trial which had been previously set and I had been unable to have same continued. I did however keep in close touch with the happenings of the legislature by telephone and was able to direct this bill out of committee, concurring with a senate amendment to the bill and ask for passage by the House. This was so done and the bill was signed into law by the governor last week.

This Bill had to do with the construction of facilities at the Gulfport port which would enable the port to handle more business, thereby creating more jobs for the people in this area. This bill was of somewhat emergency nature to enable the Port of Gulfport to borrow funds for construction while awaiting the sale of authorized bonds. The bill was able to let contracts for the needed facilities within the next few weeks rather than having the passage of the bill effecting this area.

The other problems confronting the legislature continue to settle around the financing of the improved school program including the major portion thereof, teacher salary increases. Although the Senate has continued to talk about amending or eliminating the income tax bill and submitting other taxes, it is my considered opinion after some con-further policy to adhere to the wishes of the governing authority of the state, county, or municipality in passing legislation effecting their governing authority so long as it is reasonable and there is a provision for a vote of the people to ratify their actions where extra ordinary?

Glover recalled that the only frontage on Bay St. Louis had a frontage agreement for curbs and gutters was for the mid-1920s administration of Mayor Charles Truett and Commissioner Ferdinand Egloff and Sylvan Ladner, Jr.

How does the cost of this proposal average out across the city?

Griffin and Truett cited, as an example, the average assessment of State Street property owners is less than $1,000. With a 4 mill levy on that over the 10,000 of the anticipated $300,000 bond issue for the city's share this equals $40. The average State Street property has about 50 foot frontage which at maximum would amount to a $100 frontage assessment. Allowing $20 for interest, State Street owners would pay a total of $160 over 10 years.

Now take Beach Boulevard property owner who won't be assessed frontage because that street is not on the program. Average Beach assessment is $5,000 which means $20 a year more in taxes or $200 for 10 years. Thus, Griffin observed, the Beach owner is paying more for the cost of improvements than the man living on State Street.

was received from Murphy Brothers, Inc., Co. of Contractors of New York, to the City of Bay St. Louis by the Board of Commissioners, subject to its approval by the Board of Commissioners since the emergency purchase provision.

Two other bids, obtained by Hill, offered similar equipment for $1,500 and $1,850.

Two change orders were approved, as recommended by the commissioners' engineer, Michael Dohor, Jr., Inc., of Jackson.

One deal with the engineer has on the public dock facility and the other will concern the change in the chartering and chartering and grubbing provision with L.S. Shuckett of Bay St. Louis.

A deposit was paid on $1,000 per acre for 2.9 acres and was tendered by Stockstill for an area at the end of the public dock. His bid price was $100 per acre on chartering and grubbing and $200 on acres on clearing only.

In this case however the entire bid for acre was added as Stockstill was originally only told to clear the area. This is all. Later alteration of the project, extending the public slip to the high ground, necessitated grubbing which Stockstill was asked to do. But he claimed he could not measure and price as all trees had been cut and each stamp had to be dug out of the ground.

Commissioners agreed that it was easier to roll out a tree with the stamp intact than cut it off and do the grubbing later. The bid was authorized.

Total amount measured for payment by Michael Dohor personnel at the port site amounted to $10,800 acres. Of this $5,200 is to dredge sand area, Area A, 11.5 in B; 47.1 in C; 44.8 in D; 21.0 in E and F and $1.5 in G.

On the original plan Stockstill was to clear 170.3 acres. A rottenton reduced this to 162.4 acres with a bid amount of $5,100. All was to be done on the measured bid price.

Some confusion had arisen over areas to be cleared due to lack of contractor survey lines and in some cases Stockstill had followed lines laid out by Baker for International Paper Co. crews to follow when timber cutting.

Ohio escapees jailed here

Had been last week.
Linn County, Ohio, officers arrived in Hancock County on Wednesday to interrogate two fugitives arrested in Lake Beach early Sunday after a high speed chase from Bay St. Louis.

State's Edith H. Crampton and Hancock County Sheriff Miller, Wm. W., and Capt. Harry Barnes, Jr., from three counties, including Jefferson in Lake County, conducted the search for Harry and Alice Murray and auto that made its Bay St. Louis.

The men were discovered breaking into a vending machine in Hattie's Laundry at 615 and Sunday. City Police Capt. Louis Johnson and P.M.

Hancock sales of U.S. bonds run average

Sales of U.S. Savings Bonds in County are running about the same as average for the month of March in spite of the higher than 200 per cent increase in the County's sales for this year.

Thus through February amount to $81,771. That's $1,44 per cent of the goal for the year of $22,000. Hancock's goal for the last two years has been $70,000 and it has the state last year, way exceeding the goals.

According to the savings percentage of goal achieved is 17.63 per cent. In District 4, which embraces Hancock, the percentage is 17.62. Only two of the 14 counties exceed the local percentage of sales—Corpus with 24.42 of the goal of $112 and Pearl River with 24.5 of the $10,000 goal.

United Fund budget hiked for Red Cross

A request for $100 in additional funds for American Red Cross in Hancock County has been approved by the board of directors of the Hancock United Fund. This brings the total budget for this year to $4,307.

Additional money is recommended by members of the military. More men are being called into the service, however, cause work for the Red Cross, which is the job of military families to the servicemen.

Mrs. J. L. Kortright is executive secretary for the local A.R.F. chapter.

OFFICER INSTALLED

Mrs. Jack Kramer of the Hancock Superior Agency, Bay St. Louis, was installed secretary-treasurer of the Hancock Area Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday of last week. Mrs. May met the officers in Bay St. Louis and Chet with Mrs. Richard Sorenson in charge of arrangements.

114 Main St., Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Harry Parke and William Tidwell, officers, located the pair in a wooded area, about one-half mile west of the highway at Jeff Davis Avenue, abandoned the vehicle and Tidwell and State and Harrison County patrolmen, Long Beach and Gulfport police joined in the search and Miller and Barnes were found hiding inside a house.

They at first refused to give their names, Barnes was then jailed in Gulfport and Miller joined in Hancock County. Question and investigation revealed the pair had escaped from Lake County jail after critically injuring a prison guard by breaking his nose as he opened a cell door to release another prisoner, then hitting him brutally with a metal drink bottle.

They had been arrested as parole violators in Ohio. Miller, also being held for burglary of a gas station, they agreed to waive extradition and return to face charges of jail break, breaking an officer and assaulting another, they may be returned here in something like 15 years to serve the remainder of 20 day jail terms of each, however, the grand jury has then Justice of the Peace Norman Rhodes sentenced them to the jail stint and fined each $100; the auto thief court allows they shall the 1934 Corvette from Petoskey, Mich., and a Hancock tag in Alabama.

It isn't too often that we give another publication a real big boost but after viewing the eighth and latest issue of the Mississippian Monitor, Nafissa Wayne Ducomm's beautiful publication, we want to suggest that anyone, who hasn't already purchased one or her copy, do so at the earliest opportunity.

Focus on Waveland

We urge this because page 50 Strength 63 are of more than usual interest to our readers. We may be just a bit provincial but native Little Waveland's write-up, complete with colorful pictures of the first and second Noroit's parades and ball was spectacular. Incidentally, the Monitor is available at Waveland Drug Store, for convenience of residents wanting to read about their town. Also featured was a large picture of Mayor Carlford Loder and chairman Johnny Long, Herman Yarborough, Al Grimes and Dominick Sestio as they stood before the March Program sign, which is by the way the only one in Hancock County.

In living color many beautiful photographs were Donald Landry and Eileen Chauvin as they viewed progress on Melville Bayou dredging, road grading and related aspects of the port and harbor project, an undertaking so vast in potential that it's hard to realize all of this activity is going on right here in our immediate vicinity.

Pat's calligraphy

Of much interest to Echo subscribers is an excellent picture of our Pearlington correspondent, Pat (Mrs. Harry F.) Wilson and one of her works portraying the boys, moss draped oak shading a roadway in the area. The article also cleared up a mystery which had had your reporter puzzled since first seeing a sample of Pat's penmanship, which appears much too beautiful to have been done by human hand. Pat is a talented calligrapher and studied this rare form of art under a master in St. Louis. Calligraphy, by the way, is described as beautiful, elegant handwriting and if we remember our history, in ancient times—these artists were much in demand for manuscript copying long before the printing press was invented. She also paints in all mediums and has studied under a number of well known artists.

Las Vegas party

Once again, we were all but carried away, so had better settle down and give out a report on the event of the week, the Las Vegas party, for which the background was so effectively designed that some were said to have left St. Joseph Academy Memorial Hall planning to drop in on the Golden Nugget "just down the street".

Guess the fact that the cigarette girls were in a story short satin outfit with long mesh hose and bartenders and table men, checked vests, red string ties, and some even sported guitars added to the illusion of a real casino. Just a few of these were Ursula Favre, Shirley (Mrs. Gona) Williams, Garry Loder, Lam Taylor, Bev (Mrs. V.) Penderiere, Jack Szwarczak, Tommy Kidd and Gerald Gax.

Card of guests was just as varied as that one might expect to find in the famed, Novo City and ranged from beautiful formalas such as the gold satin worn by Jill (Mrs. Gerald) Gax, who was responsible for the affair as chairman of the Cancer Fund drive, Darlene (Mrs. Elliott) Covino's full length pale pink lace to cocktail frocks; Leon Ruth (Mrs. Fred) Cure, Lois (Mrs. Ed) Morgan, Bobbie (Mrs. Harry) Maggio, Nancy (Mrs. Charles) Russ, Harriet (Mrs. Rev. Charles) Johnson and Hazel (Mrs. Charles) Tracy, to mention a few -- others chose their "Sunday-go-to-meeting" frocks while several showed up in strictly sportswear. Just a few spotted in the gratifyingly large crowd included Nancy and Lucien Gax, Evelyn and Charlie Cox, Vickie and Andy Becker, Phil and Jimmy Legaspe, the Steve Hastings, Joyce and Jake Jacob, Georges and Bob Torcress, Elvira and Gary Ross, Clarissa and Oswald Villere, Lillian and Joe Grifin, Recamary and Leroy McFarland, Mary and Ed Williams, Pat and Larry Smith, Jean and Al Bernard, Anthony Lofciano, Mary Catherine and Leo Moran, Margie and John Andrade and Starling Balash.

Also June and Paul White, Betty and Arthur Smith, Gladys (Mrs. Bjorn) Lister, Sue and Travis Hensley and this could go on and on, but we'd best save room for other news.

Next Saturday night promises excitement too as there'll be another of those fabulous St. Clare's Parish Hall dances. The very popular Dixieland Saints will furnish music for dancing from 9 until 1 and donation is only $4 per couple. Advance tickets may be obtained at Haverty's or by contacting Jimmy Legaspe or Harry Davole.

Hot Tin Roof on Boardman

Although no date has definitely been set for opening night of Cat on a Hot Tin Roof, first Tennessee Williams play to be presented on the boards of the Bay St. Louis Little Theater, it has been decided that the production will be presented on two consecutive weekends. Jill (Mrs. Gerald) Gax will be Maggie, the Elizabeth Taylor part in the Hollywood version; Andre Arsenault is Eustace, played by Paul Newman and Caroline Kleier has the Smith Anderson role, Big Mama, while Phil Allison will make the Earl role as Big Daddy. We understand that rehearsals are going very well, and will let you know the exact day in May when it may be viewed by the eager public.

Household tips

Our readers just aren't going to believe the following, but we've replaced "Simplifying" with our own Eddie Shambler's "Feddors for Household, Absolutely no one, except maybe some of Ann Landers' short-timers, can fail to find the clothing -- Eddie says, don't try, just wear them all at one time and put them on your bed. When the top one becomes soiled, pull it off, use the next one, and so on until you find another, Eddie.

Jimmy Kidd sustained several degree burns on his right hand and arm Sunday, when a skirt of grass ignited and burned the shorts, hand cabinet, etc. in the kitchen of his McRae Drive home. The injuries are painful, but he insists that the burns could have been a total loss if he hadn't grabbed the flaming skirt and dashed outdoors with it.

Jimmy Legaspe has been suffering with a badly infected

MISS SUSAN RHOADES

Miss Rhodes wins RN at Hotel Dieu

Miss Susan Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willy Rhodes of Bay St. Louis, was graduated from Hotel Dieu School of Nursing, New Orleans, in ceremonies Sunday afternoon in St. Joseph's Church, Tulane Avenue.

Archbishop Philip M. Hannan of New Orleans addressed the class and presented diplomas to the 25 graduates.

Miss Rhodes, a 1944 graduate of St. Joseph Academy, served as vice president of the New Orleans District Assn. of Student Nurses, president of the student council in her freshman year and second vice president this year.

Named Sweetheart of the Class of '68, she was also a member of the choral and athletic clubs.

Following the ceremonies a reception was given at the home of Miss Rhodes' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Babin.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes, their son M.J. Rhodes, Billy and Mrs. Rhodes and their children, David, Tracey, Danny, Dennis and Terri, an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. David Smallwood; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Blanks and son, Leslie, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fayard, Leroy Lyle, Jr., all of Bay St. Louis; an aunt, Mrs. Henrietta Cook, Biloxi and the Babineau daughters, Stacie and Suzanne.

Guess Who The Boss Is At Your A&P

It's you!

Think about it. It makes sense.

All of us from the President on down work for you.

Frankly, where would we be without you and the many people like you?

We know. We'd still be in that little store on Vesey Street where we started more than 100 years ago.

That's why you're important. That's why we care so much about how we serve you...

about being fair, honest and dependable.

Is this kind of attitude a good reason for shopping A&P?

It's one of many.

finger. He thinks a small thorn picked up while he was weeding the lawn caused all of his trouble.

Eating crow

We've always thought the expression "eating crow" was just that until Mark Solomon told of a hunting trip he and Ed Laramore made a number of years ago. The hardy pair set out for the woods equipped with fishing gear, gun, cooking utensils, matches and little else, as they had every intention of catching and/or shooting their meal. The first night it rained in such torrents that they couldn't even start a fire and by morning both were starving. They didn't even try fishing in the muddy water, but thought at least a turkey, rabbit or squirrel would turn up. As the day wore on and pangs of hunger became more intense, they finally shot and cooked the only game available—ordinary black crows. Mark swears that they are tastier than Cornish game hens and much more tender.

Gripe corner

The brother brothers were on the loose again, and by Monday morning driving down either the beach or back road sorely tested our's still, Mr. Silver's of broken glass made traveling upon those thoroughfares more like taking chances on an obstacle course. We can't imagine how drivers can get their kicks from hearing the tinsils as beer and soft drink bottles come into contact with the pavement, but if you feel frustrated when not allowed such an outlet, how about buying canned beverages????? They're unsightly, but not nearly so dangerous.

Dot and Mammy Hubbard will become grandparents again in November as their third young daughter, Sally, and husband Steve Eggers, the anticipated arrival of a girl will be here for the big event as Steve is slated to leave to do his bit for Uncle Sam in the very near future.

Toddler set

Patty and Dick Johnson finally have a daughter, and have decided that she will worth the long eight years until her arrival as they have three sons, the youngest being 8. Miss Melissa Deane put in her appearance sometime after 3 p.m. Thursday, April 16, and waltzied down the ramparts, nearly as fast as the children who were due to waltz a month or so ago, making formal entrance.

Another subject of talk was the business and business just starting up. Mineral Lane, and a few others the over growing of which has been taken care of, and Johnny Favre is collecting them, second in June. Mr. Burkin and his wife are prospective parents, and there is a number of others who are due to waltz a month or so ago, making formal entrance.

Other visitors were Mimes, Klein and Vivian Moffett, who for first in horticulture specimen; Mrs. Howard Burleigh, miniature; Mrs. R.B. Pachman, packed; Mrs. Irons Graf, wild.

Mrs. Henry Kethmann won the entrance prize, a potted plant and Mrs. Charles Peterson was recipient of the club's April garden plaque.

The two hours discussed in the business session concerned the forthcoming hot show and the annual Easter party project.

The party was staged April 9 at the Natural Children's Center in Clermont Harbor with 23 students present. The club felt this was a worthwhile project as the children obviously enjoyed the day.

Michael's Restaurant at Club Lane was chosen as site of the club's annual hot show for a luncheon session at 12:30 p.m. on May 16.

High GED in Bolivar

200 adults pass
STAR training

High school equivalency classes have been started at adult education school now, GED classes are now working through the Systemic Training Program, STAR classes in Bolivar, according to Dorothy Clark, director of the program.

Miss Gipps also does GED training as a medical assistant. Miss Gipps will take a nursing class course; Mrs. Sorrentino plans to become a licensed practical nurse; and Bradford plans to study welding.

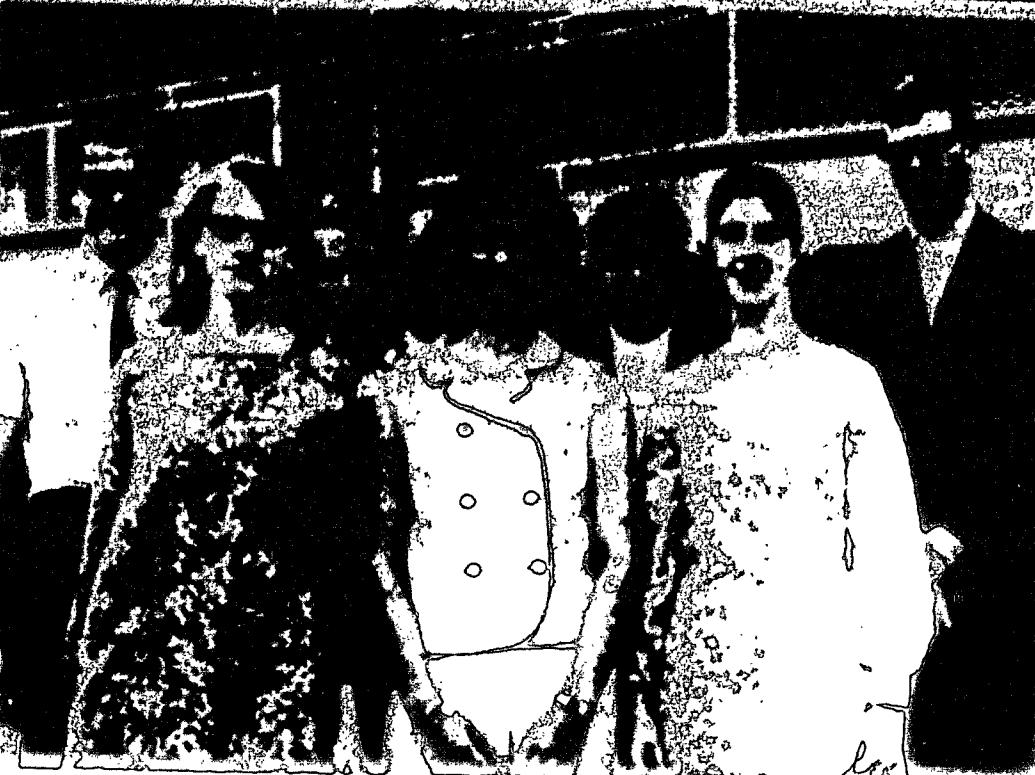

Students: Betty Ruth Lee, Virlene Malone, Marvin Price, Marie H. Page, Amber Price, R.B. Shaw and Sandra McShaw were recipients of the GED certificate.

Mrs. Sartino Willis of Picayune also passed the test. In addition, several trainees passed at the 10th grade level which qualifies them for various vocational programs such as MDTA and LPN training.

New STAR classes are now beginning in all four training locations, and are also held at the Gulfport STAR center. Registrations are being accepted for new students, and those not obtaining high enough scores to qualify for the GED certificate may continue study and again take the test later.

Further information may be obtained by calling the DeLisio STAR center, 652-2493.

At science fair

Winners of Bay Senior High School's science fair who attended District VI competition at University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg, April 13-14, from left, rear, Thomas Johnson, sponsor; Richard Soprano, Cham Dallas, John Pahlman; front, Carol Potock, Neal Phillips and Laurin Favro, Dallas, first in Class IV botany, is now eligible for state competition at Belhaven College, Jackson. Pahlman was in top six in Class V physical science.

Teen Times

Even though it seems (to parents anyway) that only a very brief period of time had expired since Labor Day, students are gleeful over the fact that they are now in the last six weeks of school. As the days grow warmer, boys and girls head for the beach almost every afternoon and once again bonfires and beach parties are a long the most popular weekend diversion. Sportswise it's baseball, track meets, tennis and swimming. End of school festivities are also keeping committee members busy. Bay High Juniors will honor their 'elders', the graduating class of '68, at a banquet in the Gold Room of the Buena Vista on Saturday, May 4. The band is also planning a dance, but no date has been set as yet.

Time now to catch up on some Easter items left over from last week:

Darome Darome is due extra special thanks for this week's contributions as she worked until the wee hours Easter Sunday morning putting the items together, then delivered her notes en route to church. She also introduced us to Edga Edga, the girl, but unfortunately Wild Thing had returned to New Orleans, so perhaps we'll meet him at a later date, and maybe he'll be wearing his new supersonic hat.

Some from the Bay seen at Edgewater Saturday included Vickie Schart, Kay Guffy, Sylvia H. and Pam L.

José has excellent taste when it comes to selecting shirts.

What was it that Jean and Juanita observed flashing on and off while watching the recent eclipse of the moon?

What's all this we've been hearing about 'Captain Kangaroo'?

Jan has finally replaced her boy friend's high school ring which fell into a lake a few weeks ago.

Charlie didn't make it to the Bay over the weekend, but Joan did.

Pam was most happy to see Jim here for the holidays, and he spent quite a lot of time at her house.

Did S.F. miss out on the 'trick or treat' planned for him? And what about the two birds he was expecting to receive?

Joe has been seen bounding around in bugmobiles as less.

Who are the newcomers known as 'Bonnie and Clyde'? Is her last name really Rabbit?

New steady twoomes include Martin and John, Cindy and Howard and K. G. and R. B.

Does Peggy have a new heart interest? And who has No. 10 been up to lately? Susan D. appeared to be having lots of fun in Gulfport Saturday. Collette and Mary H. arrived home on schedule Friday.

It might be of interest to some to learn that Howard and Robert are cousins.

All of Grog Merriello's friends will be happy to learn he is home again and will probably resume his studies at Bay High during the summer session.
